PLAYERS REPORTING FOR SOUTHERN TRIP

Manager McAleer and Jesse Burkett, Advance Guard of Browns, Arrive.

WALLACE IS EXPECTED TO-DAY.

Start for Baton Rogue May Be GOSSIP OF THE QUARTER STRETCH Made Sunday Morning-Expressions on Antiseason Games.

> St. Louis's baseball players are beginning to arrive. That they are welcome guests was attested by the number of fans who paid their respects to them at the hotels

Early in the morning Manager James Mc-Aleer of the Browns strolled through the big iron gates of Union Station looking as Early in the morning Manager James MoAleer of the Browns strolled through the big iron gates of Union Station looking as happy as if the pennant were already floating over Sportsman's Park. Shortly after the arrival of McAlcer, Jesse Burkett, his star bingler, arrived in town and, accompanied by Dick Gilmore, went to the Lindell Hotel, where he is quartered.

Both Manager McAlcer and Player Burkett are pleased with the anteseason series of games arranged by Managers Hedges and Robison. McAlcer is very conservative over the probable outcome of the games, and would venture no prediction beyond the statement that his brown-legged brigade would do their best to win. Burkett took a more roseate view of the matier.

"Beat us?" queried the left fielder, "well,
in the language of J. Pierpont M., very improbable.

"You can just tell the people," continued Burkett, "that we will be on the grounds when the time comes for playing, and if we fail to win, we won't blame our defeat
on lack of condition.

If the rest of the Browns show up in as good form as Burkett they will need very little preliminary work to put them on edge,
He is fit for the fray. His step is ela-Tic,
his eye clear and his general appearance bespeaks the ball player who realizes that his value to his team depends very largoly on his condition.

"Am I in good shape?" asked Burkett, as he eyed the weighing machine in the hotel rotunda. Before finishing the sentence he broke away, and, jumping on the scale, deposited a penny in the slot. The indicator on the dial moved slowly up to the 1731-pound mark, exactly thirteen pounds less than he weighed last year.

In speaking of the games between the Browns and Cardinals. McAlcer displayed less confidence than Burkett, but he is also of the opinion that his men will outbat and outfield the Donovanies. He is taking no chances, however, on having his team out of condition when they meet the Cardinais, and has ordered all players to report
here prepared for the journey South before Sunday.

enough for all practical purposes. The exact length of the go will be decided in a day or two.

Mike Schreck was heard from yesterday, several sarcastic letters being received from him anent Kelly's illness. Evidently with a desire to exasperate his future opponent, Schreck included some slurring remarks in his epistics, throwing doubts on the seriousness of Kelly's illness and expressing the belief that he (Schreck) would surely whip Hugo in short order this time.

These remarks, when repeated and elaborated to Hugo Kelly yesterday by the inevitable good friends who attend to such matters, had a satisfactory effect, inasmuch as they aroused the sleeping lion in Kelly and drew forth an answering volley against Schreck. It is believed the two are in a sufficiently hostile frame of mind just at present to have made the bout a hot one had it been fought to-night.

Quite a little delegation of puglists has reached the city in the last two or three days, all chanoring for recognition and all asking for bouts. Two of these, who seem of some ability, are Kild Palmer, a welter weight, and Billy Mcissac, the last-named being a Pittsburg product. He met Tim Callahan once and went six rather fast rounds with him, but lost the decision.

Terry McGovern's illness is not so serious as was at first imagined, according to dispatches from the East, and the little fighter is due to start for the West to-day if his present improvement is permanent. It is not thought that the bout with Young Corbett will have to be postponed after all.

is not thought that the bout with Young Corbett will have to be postponed after all.

Jim Corbett announced in New York yesterday that he intended to cancel his theatrical engagements immediately and to start hard work for the bout with Jeffries. This statement was in conflict with his first decision, that he would finish his theatrical tour before starting hard work. He is accompanied by a sparring partner at present and does some fast work in his daily practice.

Several clubs have made offers for the bout, but none have offered the $25,000 in exactly the form desired by the men. One club is willing to let them take $25,000 provided a certain margin remains for the institution, but this is unsatisfactory. It is thought, however, that definite offers will be made before April 1, the date set for receiving bids.

The hiayes Valley Club of San Francisco has announced that it will bid for the affair, but its offer, to date, consists in promising the men 66 per cent of the gross receipts. It is believed that it may yet hang up the sum required. Jack Herrmann of Fort Erie has finally announced that he will have nothing to do with the fight on account of the noise made by both men.

One of the keenest, coolest and clearest of Eastern turf critics says the newspapers are making life miserable for Jimmy McCormick, trainer of Hermis. The son of Hermence, the writer in question says, is an undersized, good herse, but by no means a Handspring. Hastings, Commande, Ethelbert or Hindeo, McCormick feels that he has been credited with having a world-beater, and that he must make him one or lose his reputation as a trainer.

It is not so bad. Hermis hus not been overplayed helf as far as McChesney has been. He may not be a Hindeo, but the chances are he can beat McChesney.

It is said that Captulo S. S. Brown, the Pittsburg millionaire, recently made an offer of $75,000 for the English Derby winner of last year, Ard Patrick, but that J. Gubbins, the owner of the colt, refused to sell at this figure, and named $150,790 as his price. Captain Brown, it is said, wanted to place Ard Patrick at his famous Senorita Stud Farm, near Lexington, Ky. He may make another offer for the colt in the near future. It is a huge price to pay for a second-class horse. Every one admitted that Scepter, though beaten in the Derby, displayed thirty pounds better form than Ard Patrick.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York. March 4.-From the present attitude of the officers of the National Rowing Association toward the site for next year's meet, it seems most likely that St. Louis will be chosen for the regatta of 1894. Offers made by the Southwestern Amateur Rowing Association have been favorably considered by the National Committee, and the Mound City is considered practically certain to draw down the meet.

On representations made to them by John J. Schaab of St. Louis, both President Nahr and Secretary Fordmeyer of the national body favor the Mound City for next season. Vice President Catlin is also believed to favor St. Louis. As various delegations throughout the country have expressed a desire to have the meet held in the West next year, St. Louis's chances for the big event seem certain.

Mr. Schaab is expected here from St. Louis the latter pan of this month to attend the meeting which will decide the regatta for this year. Philadelphia is the strongest candidate for the meet of 1805, and has practically been decided upon.
